

December 31, 2025: On the Rob Reiner Connections

For what it is worth, as I do work at 4:00 a.m., the only matter that the spying team chose to be 'worthy' of 'driving' their message into our home this morning was the following paragraph:

To that, police are still trying to determine the sequence of events that led to what they believe were attacks by Nick Reiner on his parents in their home's master bedroom earlier in the day of December 14, sources tell me.

Very publicly having struggled with addiction and the consequences of the disease for years, Nick Reiner had been living in the guesthouse on his parents' property for several weeks before their death. The context of how the apparently quick stabbings occurred could prove essential to both the Alan Jackson-led defense and the prosecution – especially in terms of if the younger Reiner was aware or not what he was doing, as alleged.

In truth and fairness, this oppressive and malicious spying operation does try to 'take credit' for some extra occurrences in the world that I don't necessarily believe they were involved with, but there are many things that are appearing to be directly related to their ongoing 'devious' and 'secret' operations.

This story, and this paragraph in particular were highlighted by the spying operation, specifically, to me while I did work in the 'wee-hours' of the morning.

No other stimuli were received related to my computer work at this time.
